

LECTURER POSITION

Department of Wildlife, Fish and Conservation Biology
University of California, Davis

POSITION DESCRIPTION: The Department of Wildlife, Fish and Conservation Biology offers a temporary Lecturer position in Population Dynamics and Estimation

APPOINTMENT DATE:

Spring Quarter 2020: 04/01/2020 to 06/30/2020

RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach one upper division course in Population Dynamics and Estimation: 122

QUALIFICATIONS: Appropriate professional degree, e.g., doctorate or master's degree (or 30 units of graduate coursework); demonstrated teaching ability; a developing record of scholarly or professional achievement in an area of expertise related to the subject area of the course.

GENERAL INFORMATION: Temporary lecturers are selected to fill specialized positions that require professional as well as academic expertise.

SALARY: Commensurate with experience.

COURSE AVAILABILITY: The following course is available for Spring quarter 2020:

Population Dynamics and Estimation: 122

See link below for full course description. <http://catalog.ucdavis.edu/programs/WFC/WFCcourses.html>

APPLICATIONS:

For full consideration, applications must be received by 01/28/2020. Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, evidence of teaching proficiency and three names of reference. Candidates may be asked for further evidence of scholarship or teaching effectiveness at a later date. Candidates must apply online at <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/JPF03358>.

This position is covered by collective bargaining agreement. UC Davis is an affirmative action/equal employment opportunity employer and is dedicated to recruiting a diverse faculty community. We welcome all qualified applicants to apply, including women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.